DEATH ON THE PALE HORSE.—There is not a reader of the News but what will have their attention directly taken with the caption of this article. It is a word, when once spoken, never will be forgotten. It is the title of a work of art, for which the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia, paid Benjamin West twenty thousand dollars. And without detaining the reader with any remarks of our own, except it be to say that the thrilling and lifelike scene will be exhibited, in connection with the famous painting of Christ Healing the Sick, during this day and to-morrow, at the Church-st. Church, for the trifling sum of 12 1-2 cents, with lectures descriptive of both paintings, at 11 o'clock, A. M., and at 4, and 8 1-4 o'clock P. M. We annex the following notice from a Providence paper. The crowd to see them must be very great. But to the article:—

DEATH ON THE PALE HORSE.—This is a powerful conception of an awfully solemn subject, calculated to fill the mind with conflicting emotions of wonder, pity and horror. The principle figure occupying the centre—that terrible impersonation of the King of terrors upon his pale horse, careering onward in his imperious course, regardless of poor suffering humanity, and hurling pale disease and grim death at every step—has called forth the mightiest efforts of the artist. We should imagine that West, like Leonardo Da Vinci in painting his magnificent picture of the Last Supper, reserved his principle figure for the last effort of his pencil, when after long days of toil he saw his grand design elaborated upon canvas. It was only when his conception was nearly realized and alone wanting the finishing idea that he could approach the terrible subject. How touchingly eloquent is the mute appeal of the husband, whose dead wife and child lie directly in the pathway of the horse and its remorseless rider; upon his knees with his left arm supporting the pale body of his wife, his right hand is raised in an imploring manner and his beseeching countenance is turned full upon the relentless king. He speaks not. The suffering is to great for mere words to convey its depth. His appeal is more eloquent from being mute. But the rider regards, nor sees not his imploring look; he cares not for suffering humanity, but onward still onward he speeds on his direful mission. Immediately in front of the Pale Horse we see two stout limped men stricken down apparently by his mere presence, with their countenances expressive of the most exquisite pain. Not a shadow of hope is left for the victims. On the right is a group engaged in dead conflict with wild beasts. One tossed on the horns of an infuriated bull, and these vivid with fear at the approach of a fierce lion, and still others meeting with the stern defiance of the strong brave man, the onward rush of the maddened beasts. This group make a strikingly pyramidal finish to the right hand division of the design. On the left is represented riding on the White Horse the King of Kings. The bow and arrow in his hands are emblematic of the simplicity and truth by which he will conquer peace. Upon a red horse rides a stern warrior, with uplifted sword, typical of the wars which have been employed in the advancement of Christianity. There are other prominent ideas in the design, which we would like to notice but for want of time. Our citizens have yet an opportunity to see this great work, with Christ Healing the Sick, for merely nothing, and we feel satisfied that many of them will improve the present.

ANECDOTE OF DECATUR.—At the close of the war with Algiers, when the preliminaries of peace were argued, the Dey insisted that the United States ought to pay them some tribute (as usual,) if nothing more than a quantity of gunpowder. Commodore Decatur replied, he did not doubt but his government would willingly let him have the powder, 'but,' he added, 'you must take ball with it.'

ECONOMY.—A man eating nine bananas at four cents apiece, and remarking that if they were not so high he would take a couple home to his family.

John Smith has said many good things; among the rest, that a newspaper is like a wife, because every man ought to have one of his own.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1846

ARRIVAL OF THE HIBERNIA.

The steamship Hibernia, Capt. Ryrie, which sailed from Liverpool July 18th, arrived at Boston yesterday morning. We are indebted to Mr. JAMES D. SEABURY, Express Agent, for a copy of Willmer & Smith's European Times, twenty-four hours in advance of the mail, from which we select our news.

The Times says the new ministry has got fairly into work, and the business of the country is again in a state of progression. All the members have been returned without opposition, save Mr. Macaulay and Lord Ebrington.

The affairs of the session will be wound up with all possible decency, and probably by the middle of August the legislative business of this eventful year will have terminated.

In the composition of his Cabinet, as well as in the personnel of the Government in every department, Lord John Russell is admitted to have shown judgment as well as impartiality. As regards individual capacity, the Government, as a whole, is far stronger than the one it has supplanted.

The embers which have long been smoldering in the Repeal camp, have at length broken into a conflagration, and the blaze was distinctly visible at the last meeting of the Repeal Association. A split between Young and Old Ireland is now palpable—undeniable; and as the hatred of the nearest relations is said to be the most bitter, the war will be waged with fierceness on either side.

An effort is being made to raise a splendid monument to Sir Robert Peel by means of a penny subscription throughout the British empire, as an expression of the nation's gratitude.

COMMERCIAL.—Business, on the whole, is in a more active and settled state, than it has been for some time past. The manufacturing districts are busy, and confidence prevails.

The season continues all that the most fastidious could desire. The crops are in a splendid condition, and one of the earliest and most productive harvests on record, is nearly ripe for the sickle in every part of the country.

The cotton market is firm, with a good steady business, and prices have an upward tendency.

The American Provision market as regards beef, has been in a quiescent state, with drooping prices. The market is bare of fine cheese, which would secure a good return; inferior qualities go off heavily at lower rates.

Rumors prevail that the potatoe disease of last year is doing the work of destruction on the growing crops. The same reports reach us from Ireland.

The corn trade is in a lethargic state, owing to the large quantities which were released from bond.

THE OREGON TREATY.—The steamship Hibernia brought out the Oregon Treaty, ratified by the British Government, under the hand of its Foreign Minister, Lord Palmerston. This important document was signed by his lordship and the Hon. Mr. McLane, on Friday, the 17th, at the Foreign Office, and afterwards conveyed to Liverpool, for despatch, by the Hibernia, by Mr. McLane.

The following is the text of the Treaty:

"Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and the United States of America, deeming it to be desirable, for the future welfare of both countries, that the state of doubt and uncertainty which has hitherto prevailed respecting the sovereignty and government of the territory on the north-west coast of America, lying westward of the Rocky Mountains, should be finally terminated by an amicable compromise of the rights mutually asserted by the two parties over the said territory, have respectively named plenipotentiaries to treat and agree concerning the terms of such settlement, that is to say:

"Her Majesty, the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland has, on her part, appointed the Right Honorable Richard Pakenham, a member of her Majesty's most honorable Privy Council, and her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States; and the President of the United States of America has, on his part, furnished with full powers, James Buchanan, Secretary of State of the United States; who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following articles:—

"Art. I. From the point on the forty-ninth parallel of north latitude, where the boundary laid down in existing treaties and conventions between Great Britain and the United States terminates, the line of boundary between the territories of her Britannic Majesty and those of the United States shall be continued westward along the said forty-ninth parallel of north latitude, to the middle of the channel which separates the continent from Vancouver's Island; and thence southerly, through the middle of the said channel, and of Fuca's Straits, to the Pacific Ocean; provided, however, that the navigation of the whole of the said channel and straits, south of the forty-ninth parallel of north latitude, remain free and open to both parties.

"Art. II. From the point at which the forty-ninth parallel of north latitude shall be found to intersect the great northern branch of the Columbia river, the navigation of the said branch shall be free and open to the Hudson's Bay Company, and to all British subjects trading with the same, to the point where the said branch meets the main stream of the Columbia, and thence down the said main stream to the ocean, with free access into and through the said river or rivers; it being understood, that all the usual portages along the line thus described shall in like manner be free and open.

"In navigating the said river or rivers, British subjects, with their goods and produce, shall be treated on the same footing as citizens of the United States; it being, however, always understood, that nothing in this article shall be construed as preventing, or intended to prevent, the government of the United States from making any regulations respecting the navigation of the said river or rivers, not inconsistent with the present treaty.

"III. In the future appropriation of the territory south of the forty-ninth parallel of north latitude, as provided in the first article of this treaty, the possessory rights of the Hudson's Bay Company, and of all British subjects, who may be already in the occupation of land, or other property lawfully acquired within the said territory, shall be respected.

"Art. IV. The farms, lands, and other property of every description, belonging to the Puget's Sound Agricultural Company, on the north side of the Columbia River, shall be confirmed to the said company. In case, however, the situation of those farms and lands should be considered by the United States to be of public and political importance, and the United States' government should signify a desire to obtain possession of the whole or of any part thereof, the property so required shall be transferred to the said government at a proper valuation, to be agreed upon between the parties.

"Art. V. The present treaty shall be ratified by her Britannic Majesty, and by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof; and the ratifications shall be exchanged at London at the expiration of six months from the date hereof, or sooner if possible.

"In witness whereof the respective plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seals of their arms.

"Done at Washington, the 15th day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-six.

JAMES BUCHANAN. (L. S.)

DR. VOSE'S ICE CREAM.—If any of our readers are fond of this delightful luxury, at this season of the year, they will remember that Dr. Vose is at his old stand, at the head of Touro street, where he is prepared to wait upon all those who favor him with a call. It would be folly for us to attempt to describe or praise his Creams to the inhabitants of Newport, or those who have visited here, at any previous season,—they know them too well to require a word, even from us. But to such as have never patronized him, we say that he has a faculty of manufacturing rich Creams, which are always fresh and pure, and you may depend upon having a genuine article at his establishment, at any and all times. He receives his cream every day from the farmers on the Island, and it is never watered. We cannot better recommend them, generally, than by quoting the remark of a gentleman, made in our presence, who had recently returned from Europe. He said, while speaking of Vose's Creams, "why, they are as celebrated in Europe, as Dr. Channing's writings,"—this is high praise enough, we think.

EXCURSION.—The Steamer Perry, Capt. George W. Woolsey, made an excursion from this place and Fall River, last Saturday afternoon. She left here at a quarter before two o'clock, taking a large number of passengers, several of whom she landed at Bristol Ferry, to partake of a Clam Bake which was got up by Captain Vars. She then went to Fall River, where she took on board about 250 passengers, and sailed down Mount Hope Bay, around the Island of Prudence, through Bristol Harbor, and back to Fall River, landing those who belonged there, and returned to Newport, touching again at the Ferry. It was a delightful excursion, and all appeared to enjoy themselves very much. We know of no more pleasant sail, than a trip in the Perry up Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays to Fall River, at this season of the year; the scenery is beautiful, and every thing about is romantic and pleasant. The Perry is an excellent boat, and her popular and gentlemanly commander always makes every exertion to render his passengers' time on board most happy. The Clerk, Mr. Gilbert Woolsey, is perfectly at home, and he is a favorite with every one. Make a trip in this boat, if you wish to enjoy yourself.

FROM THE SEAT OF WAR.

The steamboat Fashion, arrived at New Orleans on the 25th ult. from Brazos Santiago.

She reports that there was a general movement of the troops up the Rio Grande, Gen. Taylor remaining at Matamoros, sending the troops forward as fast as the means of transportation would permit.

The troops possessed themselves of Camargo without the slightest resistance on the part of the inhabitants, Carrabajal being on the opposite side of the river St. Juan at the time.

Gen. Taylor had received advices by scouts, that there are only about 300 Mexican soldiers at Monterey, and the general impression was that there would be no resistance offered to the U. S. troops this side of that place.

On account of the quietude of the enemy, the impression is gaining ground in the Army that negotiations for peace were about being tendered to the Government.

Parades was afraid to leave the Capital, on account of a suspected revolution in his absence.

There was a report that Mr. Lamsden, (of the New Orleans Picayune,) and his party had been cut off by the Indians, but it was not generally credited.

With the exception of some cases of diarrhea, the army is very healthy.

FROM THE WRECK OF THE SUTLEY.—An advertisement in one of the Plymouth (Mass.) papers, dated West Harwich, says that the schooner Henry, Capt. Cobb, picked up, on the 29th of June, off the Sow and Pigs, three chests, one containing women's apparel, and $48, the other two empty. The owner can have the same by applying to Anthony Kelley.

TEMPERANCE IN LONDON.—The London Temperance Chronicle estimates the amount expended in England for strong drink, together with the losses occasioned by intemperance, is $130,000,000, to which is added not less than $10,000,000, loss by accident on sea and land, resulting immediately from drunkenness.

A FORTUNE.—It is said that the fortune of Mr. John Jacob Astor amounts to $24,000,000. This vast sum, at six per cent. interest, says the Boston Post, would yield an annual income of $1,440,000, which would be equal to $120,000 per month, or to $27,692 per week, or to about $3959 per day, or a little over $128 per hour, or to a fraction over $2 per minute, or to near four cents per second. His fortune and income is no doubt the largest to be found in the possession of any one family on this continent.

RELIGION OF MEXICO.—From an article in the (Roman) Catholic News Letter, it appears that in Mexico, the hierarchy is composed of one arch-bishop and ten bishops; the number of priests is about ten thousand, that of Roman Catholics about seven millions, distributed into one thousand and seventy-five parishes.

Mr. Bunker, whose legs were cut off on the Railroad at Trenton, N. J., on Monday, asked for a handkerchief to be tied tightly above his knees, and called for paper, when he deliberately wrote a letter to his wife. He was taken into the depot, where both legs were amputated just below the knees.

The Hon. Louis McLane, is expected to return to this country by the steamer which leaves Liverpool on the 4th of August.

SWORD FOR CAPT. DUNCAN.—The common Council of New York have appropriated two hundred dollars for the purchase of a sword, to be presented to Capt. Duncan, of the U. S. A., a native of that State, for his brilliant achievements in the battles on the Rio Grande.

The store of G. W. Chesley, in Market square, Providence, was broken open Wednesday night, and silk goods to the amount of $1000 were stolen.

EXHIBITION.
MR. MELSTED respectfully informs the ladies and gentlemen of Newport, and those who are sojourning here during the summer, that he is now exhibiting at the Ocean House, a most rare and splendid collection of Worsted Work, just imported from Germany. Among other articles is the 'Battle of Waterloo,' a large and wonderful picture, which has elicited the admiration of every one who has seen it. These articles will all be disposed of in such a manner as to give every one a chance to obtain some of them, and whoever is fortunate enough to secure the 'Battle of Waterloo,' will win a valuable prize. The public are invited to call.

PILOTAGE.
THE subscribers respectfully inform the public, that they are in constant attendance as Pilots on this Coast and Bay, and by their long experience in the profession, which is well known to merchants and mariners, gives them advantage over those persons who have lately intruded themselves into the profession, without practical experience or skill, and are constantly endangering the lives and property entrusted to their management.
We trust that this notice will be suitably appreciated by all masters and owners of vessels, who have a due regard to their own interest and security.

CORNS!
MADAM BERHARD,
Corn Doctor, (from Paris) politely announces her arrival from N. York, to the citizens and visitors of Newport, and will feel obliged to those who will honor her with a call, at MRS. BURDICK'S, first house in Young-st., near Thames; and has the honor to inform the public that, by a new and peculiar method, she extracts Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Callouses, &c., Without Cutting.
Madam B. does not attempt to offer a nostrum, requiring secrecy or faith to require its efficacy, but confidently assuring those who may suffer from troublesome and painful Corns, that they may have the satisfaction of carrying away their tormentor, their Corn, in their hands.

Madam B. has been practising in the U. States for six years, and in that time she has received testimonials from some of the most eminent ladies and gentlemen, as to the benefit and comfort which they have received since their feet have been attended to by her. The operation will not occupy more than 10 minutes, and the relief is so instantaneous that persons thus treated can put on their shoes and walk without the least inconvenience.
Madam B. has practised her profession for several years in Boston, New York, Germany, France, and England, and has acquired much skill, and great practical experience—a fact attested by numerous certificates from the most celebrated physicians both of Europe and America, as well as from the nobility and gentry of those countries, delivered to her after four month's cure.
Ladies and gentlemen will be waited upon at their residence.
Ladies and gentlemen who wish Madam B's services, are invited to call as soon as possible.
Madam B. has in her possession upwards of 1-500 certificates.
From the Philadelphia Enquirer and Courier RELIEF TO THE AFFLICTED.—We alluded a few days since to the remarkable, efficacious and painless method adopted by Madam Berhard, of 459 Broadway, N. Y. and [151] Court street, Boston, in extracting Corns and curing troublesome Tumors of the feet. We are now induced to refer again to the subject, partly in consequence of more than one friend having called upon us to record their testimony as to the sudden and entire relief they have experienced from the operation of Professor; and chiefly because so many persons are in the habit of advertising remedies for Corns, &c., which are mere empiricism and pretence. The parties who are now in our office, and who have been under the treatment of Madam Berhard, assures us that they did not experience the slightest pain during the process of extraction, and that it was accomplished with an almost magical celerity. We observe also that some of the most eminent Physicians, both of Boston and New York, as well as of this city, have given testimonials to the above effect to Madam Berhard, the writers having experienced a relief from Corns, which had pained them for years. From the Boston Atlas.

Madam Berhard, at 151 Court street, is said by those who have experienced relief at her hands, to effect a radical cure of the most inveterate corns.
There is said to be no mistake about it. It is a great discovery, and we recommend all the afflicted to try.

THE VERANDAH AT OAK GROVE.
THIS NEW and splendid establishment is situated about two miles from Portland, and stands on a bold Peninsula, surrounded by a beautiful grove of Walnut and Oak, and bounded by the Presumpscot River and Casco Bay, whose hundreds of emerald green islands, breaking the surface of the ocean waters in every direction, are full in sight.

The establishment is spacious and handsomely proportioned, with all the modern improvements, finished with much care and neatness for convenience and comfort. Its halls are large and well lighted. The rooms mostly in suits are light and airy, delightfully situated, commanding the most extensive views of the ocean and surrounding country.

Conveniently situated on the premises are a Bath House, for Sea Bathing, Bowling Saloons, Swings, Walks, Summer House.

The advantages of Sea Bathing, and Sea and Shore Fishing are probably unsurpassed in the country. Good and safe Boats, with all the fishing tackle requisite, always are ready for those who wish to enjoy this fine and healthy recreation.

The location, for natural beauty, for richness and variety of scenery, is not surpassed; and with the experience of the subscriber, he hopes to make it one of the most desirable places of resort in the country, for the invalid, and the lover of fine scenery and pure air. Transient and steady board, dinner, Teas, and Dancing Parties, having a good and convenient Hall, accommodated at short notice.

Attached to the house is a large and convenient Stable, with old and experienced Ostlers. Horses, and Carriages furnished at short notice. The drives in the vicinity are very pleasant, being in sight of the Ocean for miles.

The Eastern Stages, from the Elm House, Portland, pass and re-pass the Verandah, daily.
Communications should be addressed to the subscriber, Portland.
